

友好

Goodwill (yuu-kou)

心

Mind / Spirit (kokoro)

啓発

Enlightenment (kei-hatsu)

Hearts of Japan

A One Day Symposium Celebrating Japanese Cardiovascular Scientists and their Research

AUGUST 1, 2008
SAN DIEGO STATE UNIVERSITY
BIOSCIENCE CENTER

- 10:00 AM Mark Sussman – San Diego State University
Welcoming Remarks
- 10:15 AM Junichi Sadoshima – New Jersey Medical School
Regulation of Heart Size by the Mst1 Pathway: the role of Hippo homologs and ER stress
- 11:00 AM Issei Komuro – University of Tokyo, School of Medicine
A Novel Cardiomyocyte Differentiation Factor
- 11:45 AM Isao Shirashi – Kyoto Prefectural University of Medicine
Regulation of embryonic lung vascular development by vascular endothelial growth factor receptors, Flk-1 and Flt-1
- 12:15 PM Break for Lunch
- 1:30 PM Takayuki Asahara – University of Tokai, School of Medicine
Vasculogenesis Research for Organogenesis
- 2:15 PM Keiichi Fukuda – Keio University of Medicine, Tokyo
Current Status of Heart Regeneration in Japan
- 3:00 PM Break for coffee
- 3:15 PM Seigo Izumo – Novartis, Boston
Cardiovascular Drug Discovery – Lost in Translation?
- 4:00 PM Mark Sussman – San Diego State University
Closing Remarks
- 4:15 PM Reception

*Hosted by Mark Sussman, PhD
Distinguished Professor of Biology
San Diego State University*

*For information about this symposium
Contact Peggy Bonine:
(619) 594-8632
pbonine@projects.sdsu.edu*